ART PROJECT

De Fluistertuin (The Whispering Garden)

DAILY

De Fluistertuin (The Whispering Garden) is an oasis in which the city noise is supplanted by the sounds of the trees, which tell about De Potmarge. This hidden spot mirrors Bosk's walking forest. The Whispering Garden can be explored on foot and from the water. Take it easy and experience it for yourself!

CULTURAL

Free Heri Heri

FRIDAY 1 JULY

As part of Keti Koti, we are celebrating and commemorating the abolition of slavery in the Netherlands. We are doing this with a day full of music, dance and food in the city theatre De Harmonie. Get your complimentary share of Heri Heri and start the conversation, walk with A Guide to Leeuwarden or just enjoy the atmosphere!

CLASSICAL MUSIC

CityProms Festival

22 - 26 JUNE

Leeuwarden's classical music festival is back in town! And with everything from modern classical to jazz, soul and HaFaBra. For more than ten years, City Proms Festival has been making a name for itself as the 'party of many flavours'. The festival, which is free of charge, has stages throughout the city (both indoor and outdoor locations), with a main stage on Wilhelminaplein. Check the schedule!

TOUR

City Train Leeuwarden

SATURDAY - THURSDAY

Tired from all that walking? Is 'buienradar' (the rain prediction website) proving to be a disappointment? Then discover Leeuwarden from a little train! City Train Leeuwarden tours through the historic city centre. You'll see the famous leaning Oldehove and ride along the beautiful canals, interspersed with many national monuments.

EXHIBITION

Onderwatervermoeden

FRIDAY - SATURDAY

De Utrecht is temporarily being dominated by abstract, recognizable, large and small, raw and at the same time vulnerable sculptures by Maartje Korstanje. The images do not make room for nice weather talk, but instead offer room for musings and at the same time expose something urgent.
